Richard A. Matasar is Vice President for University Enterprise Initiatives and Professor of Management at New York University. He is responsible for managing Global Executive Education, the School of Continuing and Professional Studies, and new On-Line Educational Projects.

Prior to joining NYU, he held several other academic appointments: Dean and Professor of Law at New York Law School from 2000-2011; Levin Mabie & Levin Professor of Law at the University of Florida’s Fredric G. Levin College of Law from 1996-2000 and its ninth dean from 1996-99; Dean and Professor of Law at the Chicago-Kent College of Law from 1991-96; Associate Professor of Law (1980-84), Professor of Law (1984-91), and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (1989-91) at the University of Iowa College of Law. Before joining academia, Matasar was an Associate Attorney at Arnold & Porter in Washington, DC and was Law Clerk to the Honorable Max Rosenn of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Matasar is a nationally known scholar of the legal profession, higher education finance, and federal and state relationships. For over 20 years he has been a leading advocate for making higher education responsive to societal needs through applied research and in improving the value proposition of higher education. At NYU, he will be exploring the use of information technology to further these goals.
