January Term Abroad 2017

Below you will see a list of courses organized by location. The links will take you to specific information about the course, as well as the application procedures, deadlines, costs and any available scholarships. You will work directly with the school-based office that offers your program of choice, and they can answer your questions directly.

Space is limited and some programs fill early. Deadlines are fast approaching for the J-Term and program dates vary, be sure to look up the deadline for your program of interest. We hope you will take advantage of this opportunity to add an intensive and unforgettable global component to your undergraduate degree.
