New York University Course Equivalency Form

Instructions
1. All NYU School of Engineering students are allowed to transfer up to a maximum of four courses completed outside of the School of Engineering to their degree requirements at the School of Engineering.
2. To confirm course equivalency, students should visit the corresponding academic department and have them indicate the equivalent School of Engineering course and/or what the course would count as. (Ex.) Humanities electives should be equated by the TCS department, business courses by TMI, and math by Math.
3. It is recommended that both the student and their advisor are aware of the courses which courses are completed outside of the School of Engineering. This form can be used to document the courses taken outside of the School and should be stored by the student/advisor, not returned to the Office of Undergraduate Academics.
