

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION GRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

NSF's GRFP is one of the premier graduate fellowship programs in the United States. In support of its federal mandate to advance science and engineering in US, NSF created the GRFP with a goal of nurturing and growing a dynamic and diverse talent pool for the US engineering and scientific community.

Notable Receipts

Steven Chu, US Secretary of Energy
Sergey Brin, Founder of Google
Other recipients include Nobel
Laureats & NASA Scientists

Annual Stipend of $34,000
for 3 years

Additional $12,000 / year for education

2000
awards granted per year

Informational Workshop

April 24, 2019

Rogers Hall 315

1:00-2:00pm

* Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of US

NYU

TANDON SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

engineering.nyu.edu/fellowops