

THE RUNDOWN

WELCOME TO TANDON!

And, just like that, Orientation officially starts next week! We're excited to welcome you to Tandon soon, and we want you to be as successful as possible going into the semester, so please read below for information about the schedule for orientation, including your advising sessions and important reminders. Have a great final week of break, and if you have questions, feel free to reach out to our office at nyuengrosarc@nyu.edu. Also, don't forget to follow us on social media @nyuengrosarc!

ORIENTATION HIGHLIGHTS

- All new Tandon students are invited to the kickoff & Dean's Welcome first thing Monday morning! See the schedule for the Zoom link.
- There are both mandatory & optional events, which can be seen on NYU Mobile \(click here for instructions to download & access\).
- Make sure to attend our Tandon 101: Resource Fair to hear important info from offices across campus, and have the opportunity to win a prize just for coming!

NEW STUDENT RESOURCES

- Get involved at Tandon! ClubFest will be held on Friday, January 29th. Check out NYU Engage and/or our social media for info on how to join.
- Make sure you look through this New Student Resource folder for all of the resources and links you'll need to get through your first semester.

SPOTLIGHT

This year, the opportunity to connect with one another is more important than ever. While we cannot physically be together, we still need to feel together.

The Piece Project virtual workshops are all about that - cutting through that Zoom fatigue to create unforgettable moments that both surprise and delight us and remind us all that we are not as alone as it feels.

Join us for a 90-minute virtual workshop to kick off the new year and new semester - Spots are limited so SIGN UP HERE!
